

Noddy Sharma

is a dynamic communicator and strategic thinker with extensive experience across both faith-based and corporate sectors.

Noddy brings a fresh perspective to leadership—one that emphasises humility, active listening, and generational intelligence.

He works closely with boards, executives, and team leaders to help them understand how to lead with empathy while effectively engaging the next generation. His approach fosters trust, empowers emerging leaders, and equips organisations to lead with clarity and compassion in a changing world.

ABEL CONSULTING

EMPOWERING LEADERS AND TEAMS TO CREATE CULTURE SHIFTS THAT LAST.

At ABEL Movement Consulting, we don't just tick boxes, we catalyse change. We help individuals, teams, and organisations to turn ideas into action, shift culture from the inside out, and create lasting impact.

Through motivational speaking, leadership workshops, coaching, and strategy consulting, we tailor everything to suit your unique context and goals.

Whether you're looking to inspire a room, shift culture, or develop leadership that leaves a legacy, we'd love to partner with you.

Every organisation is unique, and so are its people, culture, and challenges.

That's why every consulting engagement with ABEL starts with a conversation. In this initial session, Noddy will take the time to understand your context, clarify your goals, and begin unpacking the opportunities for growth and impact within your team or organisation.

This is not a one-size-fits-all approach. Whether you're exploring ways to engage the next generation, shift internal culture, or inspire your staff with renewed purpose, our consulting options are designed to be tailored to your needs.

Let's start the conversation—and together, build something transformational.

"Noddy is a rare leader who brings both head and heart to the table. He leads with empathy, thinks with vision, and communicates with clarity. Whether he's shaping individuals, energising teams, or lifting strategy to new heights, Noddy does it with integrity, generosity, and a storyteller's instinct. He doesn't just want people to succeed - he helps them believe they can."

Head of Listener Engagement at TheLight

It was an honour to have Noddy as one of our keynote speakers at 89.9 TheLight's parenting event Help Me, I'm a High School Parent earlier this year. In addition, we've featured him across a wide range of teen and family based topics in multiple interviews and podcast episodes. He's been a standout to collaborate with and he's always been professional, engaging, and consistently going the extra mile for our audiences.

He's a natural communicator, and honestly, his talent is so impressive that I'd offer him a job in radio with us in a heartbeat if he ever wanted a career change!
